THIRTY-THIRD CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION

Senate, Wednesday, April 26, 1854.

Senate, Wednesday, April 26, 1854.

Mr. Sumner presented memorials from New Hampshire, praying that the Missouri Compromise be not repealed.

Mr. Seward presented similar remonstrances from citizens of New York.

Mr. Norris, from the Committee on the District of Columbia, reported adversely upon the memorial praying that Pennsylvania avenue be paved with the Russ pavement.

Mr. Pearce, from the Committee on the Library, reported a bill authorizing the purchase of the portraits of the first five Presidents of the United States, painted by Gilbert Stuart; said portraits to be placed in the President's mansion; and appropriating five thousand dollars for that purpose.

Mr. P. said these paintings were originals, and he thought it highly proper that the Government should scoure these memorials of the great men they represented.

Mr. Hamlin said he would prefer the bill if

The bill was then considered and passed.

On motion by Mr. Fish, it was ordered that riday next be fixed for the consideration of the adverse reports of Committees on Private

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the bill making appropriations for the service of the Indian Department for the year ending June 30, 1855.

Mr. Sebastian moved to amend the bill by providing that the President shall have full power to change the location of any Indian perintendency.

Mr. Stuart moved to amend the amendm by providing for a separation of the duties of the Governor and Superintendent of Indian Affairs in Minnesota.

These amendments were debated at length; after which, the latter was rejected, and the former agreed to. Numerous other amendments, containing appropriations to carry out treaties lately concluded with the Southwest Indians, were offered and adopted,

House of Representatives, April 26, 1854.

Mr. Houston, from the Committee of Ways and Means, by consent, reported a bill making appropriations for the defrayment of the expenses of the Post Office Department for the year ending June 30, 1855; which was referred to the Committee of the Whole, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Parker, from the Committee on the Judiciary, by consent, reported a bill to regulate the salaries of the district judges of the Uni-ted States courts; which, on his motion, was referred back to that committee, and ordered to be printed.

A subsequent motion, by Mr. Houston, to reconsider this vote, failed

The bill for the distribution of the public lands among the States, for educational and other purposes, known as Bennett's Land Bill, being the special order of the day, was taken up, and Mr. Bennett proceeded to speak at length in explanation and support of it. This bill proposes, instead of special gifts, to give to each State 150,000 acres for each Senator and Representative to which it is entitled in and Representative to which it is entitled in Congress.

Mr. Disney next obtained the floor, but yielded for a moment to Mr. Perkins, of Louisiana, who thought the passage of the bill should not be pressed as gentlemen were absent who now be pressed, as gentlemer desired to be heard upon it.

Mr. Disney expressed a wish to be heard in reply to Mr. Bennett, but would give way for a motion to go into Committee of the Whole,

Mr. Hiester here moved to go into Committee, which motion prevailing, Mr. Chandler took the chair, and Mr. Harris, of Mississippi, proceeded to finish his speech, in opposition to the Nebraska-Kansas bill, commenced on Mon-

Mr. Harris said he was instructed to vote for wing! He might be instructed to step across the Mississippi river at its source, and not be bound to obey the instruction where it expands

Mr. Harris reviewed and analyzed the bill and was especially severe upon the oily, cheating interpolations respecting the Missouri Compromise, the neither enacting nor prohibiting Slavery, the absurd permission to a State or Territory to keep Slavery in or out, as it

He denounced the Badger proviso, and said it was a Wilmot Proviso. It repealed what-ever of law there was in the Territories, and left slavery, without legal protection there And where is slavery, without special legislative authority? The Constitution does not, under the decisions of the Supreme Court, create or establish it. In a state of nature, it has no existence. The bill before us permits the people to prohibit or establish slavery. Under it, the white man may make a slave of the black man; or, the black man may prove victorious, and enslave the white! Nothing is defined.

Mr. Hiester followed in an elaborate speech, also in opposition to this bill, and contending that it would violate our faith alike with the Indian, as pledged in our treaties, and as pledged between ourselves in the Missouri

LIVER COMPLAINT.

This dangerous and often fatal disease had ong haffled the skill of the most eminent physicians, then the discovery of Dr. McLane's Liver P. lls solved the difficulty, and presented to the world the great specific for that complicated malady, which has attained such widely spread celebrity for its certainty of cure. This successful remedy was the result of many years' study, in which the symptoms were narrowly observed, and are thus described by the Doc-

In fact, patient distrusts every remedy."

We have thoroughly tested the strength of the sewing, and are satisfied that the stitch of this machine makes a stronger and firmer seam than can be made by hand. we shall have one price only.

We shall sell cheaper than we ever have done; and in having one price only (which, in our opinion, is the only fair and equitable way of doing business) we shall maintain our self-respect, which is above all price or success. Moreover, we expect to rotain all the trade of those prompt customers who have made their purchases of us for some years past, and doubttheir purchases of us for some years past, and doubt-less we shall have a large accession of new customers, who prefer to buy where one fair price only is asked.

We feel that our simple word is requisite only to satisfy our former customers that the one price sys-tem is the correct one, and to their advantage; and we do not hesitate to assert our belief that all candid and intelligent persons will, after an impartial exam-ination of prices, fabric, and styles, give a one price store the preference. Those who are not judges of goods cannot fail to be impressed at once with the manifold and vast advantages to the purchaser re-sulting from the adoption in good faith of the one price system; it necessarily insures low prices to the purchaser, for it becomes absolutely necessary to meet at the start all competition that can be offered in prices.

Our scale of prices will be so low, and the profits so small, that we cannot and will not sell but for the cash or to customers who pay promptly. For those who purchase very largely, or to sell again, reducons will be made.

To those persons who may visit Washington, and are in want of a boot that cannot be excelled, either in quality or workmanship, we would call their attention to the card of Henry Janney, to be found under the head of "Washington." A handsome and neatly-made boot is not at all times a source of pleasure to the wearer, but often one of extreme torture; this caused by the bundling manner in which the boot to the wearer, but often one of extreme torture; this is caused by the bungling manner in which the boot is fitted to the foot. Mr. Janney has devoted much of his time in studying the construction of the human foot, in order to ascertain how a boot should be cut and fitted, that will be perfectly easy to all parts of the foot. In this he has succeeded, so that it matters not what may be the shape of, or the number of corns on the foot, his boot is perfectly easy. Thus he has combined beauty with comfort.

FARM NEAR WASHINGTON FOR SALE
THE subscriber offers for sale his Farm, situated about five miles from Washington, D.C., in Prince George's county, Md. It contains 1784 acres, more than 30 of which is a fine alluvial meadow, producing a ton and a half of hay to the acre, but which under improved cultivation would produce at least two tons. Hay sells in the Washington market at from $15 to $30 per ton. About four acres of the place is a marsh, covered with several feet in thickness of black earth, the result of decayed vegetation, which, properly composted, is a source from which the upland may be enriched at a reasonable cost. About 60 acres of the farm is woodland—growth principally oak and chestnut. The land, except the meadow, is undulating, and affords many beautiful sites for building. There are many springs of excellent water on the place, and it is noted for its healthfulness. The soil of the greater part of the upland is a sandy loam, underlaid by clay—in some places, clay predominating. About 75 acres could be divided into small gardening farms, giving nearly an equal quantity of wood and arable land to cach. There is an orchard of 150 peach trees and 60 apple trees on the place, all bearing. The farm is well fenced. The buildings are—a log house of four rooms, with a frame addition of three rooms, a meat-house of sun-dried brick, a log kitchen separate from the dwelling, a corn-house, stable, carriage-house, &c. There is a stream of water running through the place, with sufficient water and fall for a
